Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Wednesday 14 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Fine and increasingly warm for many.

This Evening and Tonight:
Clear spells for many parts, though low cloud affecting some coasts of eastern England. Low cloud in the northwest, with a little drizzle on coasts and hills, moving southeastwards.

Thursday:
Morning low cloud lifting and breaking to allow plenty of warm sunshine across many parts. Cloud may prove more stubborn across parts of eastern England where it will feel cooler.

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Cloudy across the far north with some patchy rain or drizzle. Fine and dry elsewhere with plenty of sunshine and becoming hot in places, especially parts of central England.
